Pittsburg Homeopathic Hosp.
Tuesday Mch. 30, 1909.

Dearest; Can't you come here by the night's train?
Telegraph Nettie and she will meet you.

The doctor says I am
too weak for an operation
and the rheumatic
pains are killing me.
I can neither sit, lie
nor stand without torture, in any position. I have kept up as long as I can. There seems to be no relief, except morphine - and I want to see you once more

before taking that.

You know I would - send for you if I could help it, darling.

Love to all. Queen
