Dear Madam:

I just received a letter from the B. & O. Railroad Co. saying that the shipment consigned to you was partly damaged by fire in route from Washington to Baltimore, Md. I at once called up the Company for further information, but they were not in a position to state to what extent the pieces were damaged and whether they would return them to me or to your address and let you claim the damages. As I thought you might be expecting the furniture at any time and as the Railroad Co. only notifies the shipper I thought it best to make you acquainted with the facts. Anything I may be able to do for you in this matter will be promptly attended to. Awaiting your further orders I remain

Yours truly

M. F. Rosinski
