Dear Madam:-

I am returning the check you sent me recently, and would say that a comparison of the signature on the back with the signature of the party you spoke of in your letter, does not seem to agree.

I compared the signature on the check with the signature of this party on file at the bank and found that they were not the same.

I regret not being able to assist you further, but feel that the only way you can proceed further would be along criminal lines.

Very truly yours,

P. C. KENYON, PRESIDENT

Dear Madam:--

Your letter of the 6th is at hand. We have called Mr. Hall's attention to the matter mentioned, and at his request, are enclosing check for $25.00, payable to your order.

We have the impression that Mr. Hall would have paid this account sooner, but he has the idea that some one has prejudiced him unjustly in your ~~hand~~. He seemed to think that such being the case, he would not try to undeceive you. However of this we can not say anything definite.

Yours truly,

THE KENYON PRINTING & MFG. CO.
