Mr. Pougée:—

I just arrived home this evening and find a letter from you stating you are afraid of not having good weather for your work.

I think we will have more pleasant weather yet and I will figure to do your work the first days that will permit after this week as I have all I can attend to this week.

The reason Mr. Sturdevant was so long answering your letter was because he was out of town on his vacation. Hoping this is all satisfactory and
