The Leading Liquid Drawing Ink.

Section of Bottle with Improved Combined Stopper and Pen Filler.

THIS INK, first introduced in 1880 under the name of the "AMERICAN DRAWING INK," or the "AMERICAN INDIA INK," has now gone into general use, and is recognized as the leading drawing ink in the United States, having extensively displaced the original stick ink, and superseded all the crude liquid inks previously attempted. It is not a solid ink ground up, but A NEW NATIVE INK, made fluid from the outset; and it will never become gelatinous, thick, or offensive, or deposit carbon, like all so-called "Liquid Inks" with which Draughtsmen have been heretofore afflicted. It thus fills the long felt want of Draughtsmen.

A PERFECT LIQUID INK.

ALWAYS READY, ——— ALWAYS GOOD.

This Ink is put up in a special bottle (see cut), with a quill for filling the pen and an improved stopper, and is thus ready for instant use.

NOTE.—We make two kinds of black ink, viz.: General Drawing Ink (red label), which is best for tints and washes, for tracings, for Patent Office and photo drawings, and all fine line work. 2d, Waterproof Drawing Ink (white label) which is insoluble when dry, and is best for working drawings which have to stand handling, moisture, or color washes. Select the kind which best suits your work.

BOTTLE IN WRAPPER.

BEWARE of dealing in any inks not made by us, using the label title "Waterproof Drawing Ink," as such is an infringement on our label copyright No. 3693, and will leave the infringer liable to a suit for damages.

In order to avoid imitations that have been offered on account of the wonderful success of these inks, users will see that the "fac-simile" signatures of both inventor and sole agent are with each bottle.
