Dear Judge:

He will fight it out, then, in the time
indicated to you, if it takes all summer — for spending whole, if the way, I have made no arrangements.
When I do make my arrangements, I hope you will find it convenient to come into them. I mean to consult my health, which, unfortunately, you are under no necessity of doing.

Proctor seems so little than Pearson for the Supreme National Bench, but neither of them, in my opinion, is fit for it.
Proctor has got the dream too hard, which sometimes comes his brain Pearson is naturally too narrow for broad views, such as lift the Supreme Bench, and is too young too old even to be anything more than he is.

I see from the paper, you place our Attorney General out of court. I think in your unutterable contempt for the man & the office.
For the sake of the country I hope he may not get a foreign appointment, nor do I think Grant is likely to send such stuff abroad.

Yours faithfully
W. F. R.
