I have often thought if the future holds any rewards for patient care and endurance that my wife would receive a great crown of glory in the great hereafter. All things have an end and so our "burden has been lifted" and we are here broken in health, but very happy with our little family of a son and two daughters aged 14, 12 and 10 years and very bright and satisfactory they are. I will send you a photograph of the group. I really wish you would send me a good picture of both yourself and your very amiable wife. I shall value them very highly. Hoping to hear from you I remain most
