

Limericks

1.
A maiden of Kalamazoo
Said; "No more house-work will I do!"

Now she soulfully plays,
Through the long summer days,
Frigorise chants on the bayo.

2.

There was an old dame of Biarritz,
Who concluded in that town the air its
So fresh and so cool
She 'd be twice a fool,
To go and reside at Letarriz.

3.

Said the cat, as he looked at his ruff—

"It isn't half stylish enuff.

I think it would be

More becoming to me,

If adorned with some sprigs of plum = suff!"
