

A Luculent Introduction

~~Men said as~~

"Men", says an Arab proverb "are of four sorts: - The man who is a fool and knoweth it not. He is a beast; beware of him. He who is a fool and knoweth it but knoweth not the way to cure his folly. He is weak; pity him. The man who is a fool ^{knoweth it} and careth not to be otherwise, he is only a fool; heed him not. The man who is a fool, knoweth ^{it} and understandeth whereby he became a fool. He is wise listen to him. I have the honor, ladies and gentlemen, to introduce to you this evening, the one man of our time who has qualified ^{him} himself to speak upon the "Unresolved Problem" which is his theme tonight by having frankly admitted himself to have been in error and patiently and bravely to have discovered the causes of his error, and thereby invited the commendation of the press and your earnest attention — the Hon. Albion W. Tourgee, the author of "A Fool's Errand, by One of the Fools."

10

Handwritten text, possibly a date or reference number.

Handwritten text, possibly a name or title.

10

Introduction

Main body of handwritten text, appearing to be a list or series of entries.