Judge Touger,

My dear Sir:

I have talked with a few of our friends and the general impression is that Mr. C. Dalton is the most suitable man who can be gotten for the West Regiment; and that Capt. John A. Bitcher is the most suitable for the East Reg. It is a very difficult matter to find a man, who is in all things suited for either. Perhaps, these are the best.

Very truly,

your friend,

Wm. L. Lewis.
