

I have just received your letter of the 11th and am glad to hear from you. I hope you are well. I have not much news to write at present. I am still in the same place. I shall be glad to hear from you again. I am your affectionate friend

Dear Sir

We received yours of June 11th this morning & hope you have relieved yourself of that large quantity of notes like you would have had on your stomach. I hope you will be able to write a couple letters in the future a little less crossing would be appreciated. I would have some satisfaction in showing you letters to the best of the firm. Brookfield wanted to see your letter this morning & I am ashamed to show it to him it is written becoming to you & it seems you not appreciated by any of us. How do we do? See as you have accomplished anything so far if you will only write good plain English so that we poor simpletons can understand what you mean we can give some idea what to say to you.
 We want you to get a square definite proposition from him as to what he will do & what really settling.
 You say he refused to give you as to what he will do with a good line of hands one of us go out on the road & see if you can get that sufficient out of the proceeds of sales to pay the necessary expenses nothing & I am sure you will see all the money we can possibly
