Greenboro N. C. Sept 26th 1875
Sunday 9th M.

My dear Husband,

We have all been to church
to day, mother and Aunt's aunt down to Sunday School, then she & Dr. mother and I walked for some on our way to the Pres. church. Mr Smith was there. Fine sermon. He took up the word ~~to~~ "no peace, saith the Lord, to the wicked," but the sermon was based on the word "peace." It was interminably long and Eddie feared and yawned, however she tried hard to be good. She was devoted to in getting a book in Sunday School in time just finished reading it to her.

I have the headaches again to day but not quite as bad as I had in a few days ago. An will see to see letter written yesterday, but which you will not receive until tomorrow I suppose. I will send you some letter in this morning

was more than acceptable.

I forgot to tell you in my letter last week that the principal excitement in town was the announcement of Bessie Galt's and Robert's marriage. I have been as much astounded of course as anyone. You ought to have seen how displeased the people here are about it. (I mean the people here.)

I had a nice letter from Mrs. Willie McMath last week. She reports a very sick boy and asks to see you about your care in New York.

It was very a beautiful day and I wonder what you are doing. I think you were at the meeting yesterday as I do. I am sure you used to send us without ever. If you want to bring in anything when we come home a dress would be acceptable. I do not say anything about money would be sufficient. Sometimes that would do for winter. I am going to look for the highest wages for her. I may be able to get them here. I will look tomorrow.

I have had a letter from you in the morning but the mail does not come there in the night for it. I am sure you will be able to get them here. I will look tomorrow.

Yours,
Bessie
