New Teegarden Hotel,

J. C. GILBERT, Prop'r.

La Porte, Ind., Dec. 13 1887.

My dear wife:

I reached here about 10. am. after a very pleasant night at Michigan City and send you herewith the draft for $5.00 you desired. I found when I came to undress last night that I had left off my vest under-shirt. I had not thought of it before and fortunately took no serious cold. I have a little thickness of my pipes and have just been out and bought a camel's hair one, so you need not be troubled about me. I saw Clayton and the E. O. folks. Talked matters all over with D. and will probably arrange with him. Found D. O. folks in a range of doubt. Made no bargain with them. Did not have time to see Mr. Lury-

Have done nothing else of any kind — Am afraid you had an unpleasant trip back but trust there is now peace at Shoshone since the disturbing element has been eliminated.

Whenever you get home hire at once drive stakes and put stubs around the two trees in the burial yard, fix up the back gate and turn the catch out every pleasant day. It wont do to keep them up all the time.

Yours ever

W. W. Sawyer
