

Everett House,
Union Square, New York. Jan. 20. 1888.
John G. Weaver Jr. Jlt.

My dear wife: Am just arrived, and read letters. Don't be blue, dearest. Have written American folks that I would be in Chicago on other business in a week and will see what I can do.

Will go up to Homer tomorrow night, though I see no sort of sense or use in it. No proof here from Hippiusott. It is queer about them. Shall telegraph for proof.

You got check & expense from Brattleboro; Had awful time at Middletown and have neuralgia fits to kill today. Never mind, I'm not a bit blue Send love from Over } cc. W. Lanyon

Have not seen Henry or any one else.
