

THE GRAND PACIFIC HOTEL.
DRAKE, PARKER & Co. PROPRIETORS.

Chicago, Jan 24th 1889 -
3 P.M.

My Darling:

I have been working hard all day and done nothing as is usually the case in a city. Bought some collars, a necktie - very pretty, black with little red specks on it - a shirt and a trunk. The whole about $30.00 -

5 p.m.

Have been working for an hour over the puzzle about the missing page in the "P.P." story I guess it is gone and I shall have to write it out. Don't remember a word about it though and am hardly guess what it was.
I shall stay here until 2.30. to -

THE GRAND PACIFIC HOTEL.
DRAKE, PARKER & CO. PROPRIETORS.

Chicago, _____ 188 anxious to do the "Bystander" and get this matter straight.

You were right about Busby: he is yellow with envy. I hardly ever saw such a change in a man in my life. He is queer: anything I may pay now he takes issue with. His on is away — in El Paso just at present. Think I have got a very good trunk though you will hardly fancy it. I wish I did not have the other to take home but may as well do that as anything with it.

My head is too full of other matters to write, so goodbye, Lovingly,

Albin,