Sunday Nov 13

6 pm

My dear wife: I am pretty near sick. Don't know what is the matter — just used up I guess. Have been lying about all day — no life ambition in any thing. Have been trying to convert J & S but have made little enough headway. Hope to be better tomorrow as I must leave on Tuesday. I wish you would send back the letter from the Fredonia folks as I cannot possibly write to people whose names I do not know. As I promised to write to them in about ten days and it is now more than two weeks they will think me pretty negligent.

I shall try and mail Nos. X & XI to you on Tuesday. There is nothing about XII - that needs any material change.

They wrote six months ago that they wanted to suggest something about the book.
Now is the time to do it. I shall go to work on that as soon as I receive. You would do well, too, to remember that I shall want copies of these to work with and not rely on their duplicates for XI and XII.

Yours

Albin

Monday morning:

I feel better this morning but am afraid I shall not, after a time, I give out so early in the day. I shall try and finish No. X. Have been working at it before breakfast and guess I will get it done. God bless you albin.
