

Thorburn

Mar 30-89

My dear wife: I read the ms yesterday and shall work it over today. Have been reading and studying it to see what changes must be made. Our warm weather has gone and we have snow but pleasant again.

Augie came last night and Mary Ann with her. The letter is as gossamorous as ever and nicer than ever before to my thinking. I saw a letter from Dunham. The ms has not yet arrived. You have seen by this time that the Pacific winter is a flumm.
Shayton wrote you to unswear by telegraph in the hope that you would just humbly headlong into the idea, <sup>in order</sup> that he might go on and make dates for which you would feel bound. It didn't work very well, the friends we were rather anxious as he thought.

Well, we will wait and see. I think if he gets 20 good dates we will have to go; but he is not likely to do that. Certainly the tide is out and the boom receding.

Yours Albin
