Judge & Furgess,

Dear friends - I found your letter on my husband's desk and opened it (as I always do). Mr. Wool has been away since Saturday but will certainly return to-night.

If you feel that you would be more comfortable and quiet at your hotel, I will not force the matter for I know how annoying "kind attentions" sometimes may be to a busy man or woman.

However there are no "old maids" in the family and should you feel inclined to stop with us we should be very much pleased now as always.

Cordially yours,
Carrie K. Woolcott.

P.S. not knowing your hotel
I will try to send this through Mr. Loran Lewis.
