

JOHN WANAMAKER
PHILADELPHIA

April 25th 1889.

Mrs. A. W. Tourgee,

228 S. Broad Street.

Dear madam:

Your favor of the 18th instant to the Postmaster General has been referred to this office, and we will be very glad to give a prominent position in our Book Department to Judge Tourgee's book, "Letters to a King". There are many reasons why we should not give a personal public commendation to any book, the force of which you would undoubtedly perceive could we state them, but as a business matter, we can give it attention, and our Editor of Book News will probably find it quite consistent for him to quote a complimentary review, or perhaps to give an original criticism on it; the latter is the best thing we can do, and as a channel for bringing a book before readers hardly equalled by any literary magazine in the country. Mr. R. C. Ogden, whose office is on the main floor of our store, will be very glad to see you further upon this subject.

Yours very truly,

John Wanamaker
