

THE FORUM,
253 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK.

May 25, 1889

Dear Judge Bourgeois:

After Manning's and Fisher's articles had appeared, offers came in to us from all directions of papers to follow, including one from Mr. Montgomery. The Forum was not in a situation to publish a series on the public schools, and so the answer was made in every case that nothing more could be accepted on the subject at present. I cannot therefore well use this article, though I consider it very excellent; and I thank you for the opportunity to read it.

Yours very truly,

D. S. Metcalfe.
