

3840

The Press.

MANAGING EDITOR'S OFFICE.

Philadelphia, May 28, 1889.

Mrs. A. W. Tourgee,

Rayville, N. Y.
~~328 S. Broad St.~~

Dear Madam:

Judge Tourgee's first article reached this office during my short absence on account of illness, and the editor in charge held it until my return.

It is excellent matter and will, I think, interest a good many readers of the Sunday Press. Would Judge Tourgee be willing to contribute a department like this whenever he has a subject and the inclination to write, at $10 a column? It would be published "leaded."

Very truly yours,

Bradford Merrill,
et.