

THE NATIONAL BANK OF WESTFIELD,

Westfield, N. Y. July 15th, 1889.

Mrs. Emma K. Tourgee,

Dear Madam:-

I have received from you assignment of contracts with the 'Advance' and the 'New York Ledger', together with notes for $300 and $200 respectively, and blank check to be filled for the $75.00 note, held by us, and interest on the $130 note. The check has been filled for $86.60 to cover the note of $75.00 and interest, amounting to $81.65, and interest on the $130 note, $4.95, to Jan'y. 14th, 1889.

I presume you wanted the notes of $500 placed to the credit of S. E. Kilbourne, but it is not so stated in the letter of Judge Tourgee. Please instruct Mr. Cipperly to that effect and the notes will be credited accordingly.

Mr. Cipperly will also give you memorandum of the balance to the credit of the account after crediting the notes and will hand you the canceled note of $75.00. I enclose herewith the note of $130 made by Judge Tourgee and paid by me, on account of the horses and carriage.

Yours truly
