Mayville, Ky., Sept. 2) 89

AW Toupee:

Your corrections on circulars are too numerous for my feeble intellect. The matter was set according to copy, in a fairly workmanlike manner, and I had rather set it in the first place than make the corrections.

In a kindly, friendly way let me remark that life is too short and general results too uncertain for me to monkey with such work except upon mutually agreed terms.

Come in and let us reason the matter together
Yours & L.R. Dean
