Certainly - Answer it as "The King's Business"

Safayette College, Easton Pa.

Oct. 10, 1890.

Hon. Albion W. Younger,

Dear Sir,

Through Hayden's Beardlessness, we have secured you to lecture before the college again, ^{Nov 27, 1890.} we desire the lecture entitled "The Christian Citizen." We are afraid, however the subject may interfere with the sale of the tickets among a certain class, as we have several on the course, dealing with Christian or religious subjects.

After discussing the matter with one of the professors, we concluded to write and ask you to change or modify the subject for our special use, that the lecture may not be prejudged before the tickets are sold. Do not understand us as wanting any change in the lecture. The word "Christian" in the subject, we feared would cause some of the students to think that we were aiming to furnish only one class of matter in our course. Trusting that you will pardon our seeming presumption, and awaiting an early reply, we remain,

Respectfully yours,

O. H. Bakewell
