The Magazine of Poetry.

C. W. MOULTON, EDITOR.

BUFFALO, N. Y., November 2nd, 1889.

DICTATED.

Judge Albion Tourgee,
Mayville, N.Y.

*My dear Sir:
As you must be well aware & lay
stress upon the
merit, to not be lost in the multitude of others, I have also an
ideal sketch
of your life
which I will submit to you. I am sure
any portrait
of you
will be of great value to the life of my country.*

Dear Sir:- I trust the inclosed Prospectus will interest you. In one of the coming numbers of the magazine I would like to make a study of your poetry, and if you will kindly assist me to copies of your published works, which will be returned if you so desire, I will be indebted to you.

With many of the articles it is the intention to run full-page portraits; - have you one of yourself which could be used for that purpose?

Trusting to receive an early reply, I remain,

Very respectfully,

(J.M.)

C. W. Moulton

P.S.- We have not arranged for the biographical sketch as yet, and would be glad to have you refer us to some one competent and willing to prepare it.
