

Editors,
REV. H. M. DEXTER, D. D.
REV. A. E. DUNNING, D. D.
Editor in New York,
REV. A. H. CLAPP, D. D.,
84 Bible House.
Editor in Chicago,
REV. E. F. WILLIAMS, D. D., 4018 Drexel Boulevard.
Associate Editors,
REV. MORTON DEXTER.
HOWARD A. BRIDGMAN.
MISS FRANCES J. DYER.
MISS H. H. STANWOOD.
Managing Editor,
C. A. RICHARDSON.

THE CONGREGATIONALIST.

W. L. Greene & Co. Publishers.

BOSTON, MASS.

1 Somerset St. Nov. 20, 1889.

Judge Albin W. Tougee,

Dear Sir:

Enclosed we are happy to send you

Twenty dollars,

with our thanks, in payment for your article to be published in ~~this week's number~~ of our journal.

Respectfully yours,

W. L. GREENE & CO.

C. A. R.

only

Dear Sir;

If the enclosed is not satisfactory as payment please let us hear from you. We always aim to satisfy our contributors, but as the article is shorter than others that you have sent --for which we like it all the better-- we ~~send~~ <sup>paid</sup> twenty, which is what we are paying other well known writers.

Yours Respectfully;

C. A. Richardson

CHAUTAUQUA COUNTY NY HISTORICAL SOCIETY 2013

However, I took my medicine and didn't improve so much that I wrote on the disjointed words. Now, you see what to get for it. It

I thought I had enough cash when you be interested that I wrote the <sup>Pharmacology</sup> ~~Pharmacology~~ when invention, but understood it was

As a sample of real manuscript writing incidentally, you are absolutely ~~done~~ specimens perfect +

A few months ago you <sup>wrote to me</sup> say "one can print no article over 1500 words and would a good deal rather have it 1500."

Then you read me a lecture because I didn't know how to "write for a newspaper."

I took it ~~completely~~ enough though I had been at it all my life. I confess I didn't more than half believe all the wise words you threw at me.