

good some of their exuberant promises.
The "Bourbons" fooled us; the Republican party and the Northern people fooled you. I don't blame ~~any~~ Southern Republican for despising the Northern people. You have been the victims of a conspiracy and treach-ery altogether unparalleled in political history and have a right to curse those who betrayed you with the idea that loyalty to principle would be remembered and honored, while we can only curse our own stupidity.

Now, I would be glad to help you: I do not know that my endorsement would be worth a feathering to you, but such as it is you are welcome to it. I will not throw away postage in the manner you propose. It is worse than useless to give you and recommendations and folly to present them. There is no chance of getting any thing unless you go for something. When you do that and tell me what you want I should say — with no reservation of course — I will say it emphatically.

Tell them hand, eye,
& foot
