

Wm. S. L. Dec. 29th '45

My dear Emma,

Thank you so much for the abstract of the "Lancaster paper boy," we shall print it for your sake, as well as for your kindness in copying it for us, this form is so much more convenient & satisfactory, than the book, truly.

After receiving the Book from the author, he wrote us for what information we could give him about his family, dealers, etc., thinking hence Lewis might know the family record. I wrote him for the date of my grandfather's death, as well as my mother's, as he wanted, he copied the date from the tombstone, however, we should have kept a copy of them, I think I'll write him to do the same for us again. (He would be delighted with a copy of the Liberator.)

My father died on May 16th 1862, as near as I can remember you have the names of all my father's sisters except one, & one brother, Bartholomew, who died in early manhood, his son Uriah came to Canada, & married a lady near Smithville, & lived there for several years.
I attended his wedding, he died over to B.
for me, our cousin Walter Coombes who is living near us, is also writing out an "abstract"; we sent to H. Jr for some papers giving information about my father's sisters families who resided there, I can probably learn all the sisters names from those papers, which formerly belonged to our cousin Aaron Robertson, I will show cousin Walter the "abstract" you put us, thinking it will be a help to him, Grandfather Joseph Coombes married Elizabeth Hixson, before I knew that, I used to think I con-remarkable it was, that the family resemblance between the Coombes & Hixson families was so distinct; then too, aunt Naomi also married a Hixson,

(In writing the names of my father's family, please explain the meaning of the eight capital letters between my name & Phiscilla,

Later All-right, better system have discovered a misspelled name crossed out,) 13

You ask about taxes on Delano lots like ourselves, we thought it in that they were looked after, & wrote to engineer, in reply, they wrote they would notify no one, which they did; though they probably would not, had we not signed so an agreeing you letter, I wrote them to ratify you. The tax for our two lots were less than a dollar, all the same, if not paid, they will be sold for taxes;

Dear friends & dear children & grand children, I am sorry to inform you that we are all well. Your wife but are all well, both her & all Edgars, with the exception of young Brookfield, he does not improve much, owing to unfavorable weather, I think, this is a "runy" rainy season, such as we used to read of in the early days of California they do not often occur, but they are pleasant when they do, then has been no eastern mail for the last two days, land slides & washouts delaying it, business men are greatly put about, & see & numerous others, especially these holiday times.
We had a letter from Belia Wauverton lately, she tells us of her son Edgar's poor health, he had hemorragies & inflammation of lungs last spring, which left him with a cough, They are thinking of sending him to River side, & wrote for information. The other friends were all well, Belia Norman & her two babies, doing nicely.

In journal you speak of was destroyed, as the writing had become quite illegible, but I remember so well, that with the recorded dates, I can probably tell all the Judge wants to know,
We were married on Aug. 19th 1845, started on our journey to Mo. Sept. 18th drove to Chippewa, Jane & John Hibben going that far with us, we then took boat to Buffalo, stopped over night & next day again went by steamer to Toledo, then went by canal to Cincinnati, left Toledo Sat. night & arrived at Cincinnati, next Sat. A.D.
This was quite the pleasantest part of our journey, the passengers all being pleasant, sociable people,

We then at once secured passage on steamer for St Louis, & went on board, from that time until Monday P.M.
the captain waited for more passengers

P. S. at the time the railway from Ismailia to Assiout & a lot, to be off a lot, now
the way by river in the country

gers, keeping up steam, but we went about the city all the same, Saturday night, went to the opera, Sunday went to church, etc, altogether, we enjoyed the time, just before sunset, the last passenger came on board, & the steamer left her moorings, & passed some interesting, historical places along the river before dark, & was sorry to have the sun set so soon, The river at that time, was very low, so that sometimes the boat, & an orange arrived at Cairo, the only thing for hotel was an old steamboat, & not a building beside, we arrived at St Louis on Sunday A.M. in the evening went to hear the celebrated Rev. Smith preach, spent Monday buying furniture, which with some other belongings was put on board, & we packed our suit, & running at Dewitt just three weeks, from the time we left home, all the way by water, S. Kelley
