Dear Sir;

Your card of the 23rd to Mrs. Tourgee asking the pronunciation of any name is read.

The name is of French origin and is pronounced according to ~~French~~ the first syllable as if spelled Tour - ~~the second~~. In the second - g is pronounced like zh, and the ~~second~~ ou like a in fa. In accordance with the linguistic derivation the accent is on the ultimate though with a stress which ^{differs to} ~~elides~~ the penult - It is not

Tou-a-a-gee
 Tourgee
 but Tour-zhā

Yours truly

Has it a man harsh, relentless and self-centered enough to ruthlessly put down the hordes of self-seekers who always spring to the front in such a movement and who yet has tact enough to make them all work towards one end. It needs some thing of the ~~Command~~ Cromwell and something of Purnell, but least of all things does it need eloquence or display, bomb, trick, silence and an utter absence of self-seeking — these are the prime qualities in the head of such a leader.
