Gentlemen:

Replying to your letter of July 15th, 20

long unanswered because of absence from home, all for me to say that I have examined several of the reports in your "Text-book Series" and was much struck by their neatness and accuracy. I have frequently commended them to students - especially Taylor on Evidence - which is the best work by far on that subject. I have not the volumes myself, but think this method of publishing legal works not only a great advance on former methods but of especial advantage to the students of law -

Sincerely yours
