

4360

New York, Jan. 13, 1890

Dear Judge :

If the article is under way and therefore is to be written in any event, why not give me an opportunity to see it as soon as completed? No delay will be caused except by transportation, for I will give it instant attention. I have one legal article waiting its turn, and I cannot judge to my entire satisfaction in regard to another without knowing just exactly its character. I certainly hope that I can use it.

Yours very truly,

L. P. Metcalf.