

Dictated

SENATE CHAMBER,

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21, 1890

Dear Madam:-

I have let your letter lie along and have asked questions about the matter you mention. I find it quite impossible to say what will be done to relieve the Supreme Court. Lawyers are constantly discussing new plans. While I there will be some action during the next three or months, I cannot say that it will or will not be in the form of a special court for patent cases.

Yours truly,

J. R. Hawley.

Mrs. A. W. Lorangee,
Mayville,
N. Y.
