Dear Friend Fourjee :

I surrender. However, that amendment was copied out of a book and I had no reason to suspect its correctness. The "Rights" I quoted included the "right to vote" as it lay in my mind. Thanks for your letter. Trouble is coming id the real issue is not respected in the south. Colored men are now talking about their duty to protect themselves, while they do not propose to attack. Harrison ought to send a special message to congress recommending investigation into current outrages. The whole matter is a threat to voters in the north and the entire nation needs girding up. It.

is horrible that Christian colored men are shot like dogs, and without recourse even to the extent of a truthful inquest. Our own colored church members are murdered, and it seems that I am left almost alone to protest. The fire ought to be general, and the southern Methodist church ought to be shamed into expression. The war is not over, and Gen. Sherman's prophecy may come true.

With high regards for you, and your journalistic work,

I remain yours truly,
