

Forest Ave. Avondale,
Cin., Ohio.
Feb. 27, 1890.

Hon. A. O. Torrey:

Sir, It was my pleasure to listen to your lecture, at Chautauqua, a few summers ago on, "Our Greatest National Debt."

I have looked and waited patiently for its publication; but have failed to see it. I called twice at your residence to see you, but each time you had gone fishing. I am personally interested in the lecture and would be more than delighted to obtain a copy of it.

Will you be kind enough to tell me what steps to take to obtain a copy?

Very truly yours,

P. J. Gorham,

P.S. Please find enclosed a stamped envelop to my address.