153 Powell Hall, Easton, Pa.,
Mar. 3, 1890,

Mr. Albion W. Bourgeois; Dear Sir,

As Mr. Bales is absent from college I reply to your note for him. Before receiving your letter we had advertised your lecture for Thurs. eve, having circulated notices of it as widely as possible; so that many are expecting a lecture on that date, Mar. 6. We would gladly change this date however to the 13th were it not that the students will then be in the extra work which examinations, this session, will incur.

Our course tickets too call for this one lecture to complete the series.

If the circumstances were not so pressing as you see by the above, they are, we would gladly change the date of your lecture as you request, but do not think it advisable to do so as we are now situated. At any other times we would not ask you such a favor, but hope you may come after considering the above points.

Please telegraph at once whether you will or will not be able to come, addressing message to

J. E. Taylor, 153 Powell Hall, Easton, Pa.
