

J. B. Lippincott Company.
Publishers and Booksellers.

Philadelphia Apr. 23, 1890.

Mrs. A. W. Tourgee,

Dear Madam,

Please accept our thanks for your remittance, and herewith find receipted bills. We will send check for copyright on "Guage & Swallow" to Mr. Skinner, as you direct.

On publication, "Guage & Swallow" was distributed very liberally to dealers throughout the country, including the American News Co. We have frequently tried to get our books with the news companies, but find that they are not at all inclined to handle cloth bound books. Consequently, we made no special effort to place "Guage & Swallow" in this way, as we anticipated a refusal to work it. If you know of any particular section, where the work is in demand at the news stands, and can influence an order, we shall be much pleased to furnish them the books at our usual discount.

Very truly yours,

J. B. Lippincott
J. M. R.