Dearling - Your package of letters with the sheet of manuscript rec'd this morning. I do not think this belonged in the instalment and as I had sent it back to you, as you requested I could do nothing, but return this. By the way "Special Delivery" does not get around any towns here. This came with the regular mail this morning, - (no, some 15 minutes later, come to think and the same the other day. "Via Conny" - Drings mail in the fast delivery, just as well as the extra 10 cts. -

Neddie had an engagement with Miss Barber this afternoon, and I went down with her, - and wandered around, - to Emilio, Porto & Coats, Leary's &c. - until she was through at 12. - I got

You "King the South is Solid" and "Washed Ambrosiana" at Henry's and had them sent by Ex. I saw a well preserved copy of Stephen's History of the Rebellion (2 vol $3.) - which I thought half a million to get but thought I better ask you first. I had heard you say you wanted like Jeff Davis but they did not know that.
I called at Mrs Guildon's, saw Mrs Jackson, - (Mrs G. being at Atlantic City) - she has a nice room for us any time you want to come on - a back room, the one Mrs Pleasants used to have in the Middle House.
I think she will let us have it for $20. a week. - Pleasants was washing the steps and asked after our (said he saw about the business and only wishes it had been 100 times as much. for "Judge Cougee was the best man that ever lived." You know he is not very demonstrative but his soul lit up and his face glowed with enthusiasm. He would

One to give you his see. - wish and today he would not express what he felt for you. -

I stopped at the Forest with Lodie from the same book - and had a look at his work. Miss Emily was very enthusiastic about him. and did some of his work in the life of a student been picked out by artists at their exhibition as a very fine. In comparing his ^{work} with ^{that of} others as they are the same together. There is a strength and power about his which is very noticeable. She will be in at what you are in fiction. - She will do a master piece. - as dilettanteism. Her pictures will mean something. I think there is no doubt but she will get some of the prizes. I have made her red since I came. - She has chafed under it, but is now happy.
"Supreme colour" - she says has been her son. - That makes it with husbands and child ^{the wife} to whom I seem so essential, and who cannot stay in the same place!

I have been very well. I have had no touch of pain in my head, or otherwise it was, since the day I came and set diarrhea.

Porter & Co. say they were selling a good many P. P. S. - Hanamaker books. I will see if I can get orders coming in very abundantly.
That Byington is splendid and will do a heap of advertising.
I think I will send it to them. I don't quite understand that you got no reviews last week. I sent you all the magazines this morning. I'm glad you like "Lody".
That is a good name for your magazine what she has written has been called by -

I enclose the African note, which please put in my desk, in the envelope marked "Notes". That is off your mind.
I also send a check for $60 to Sherman, and asked him to send me a statement, I can then tell what you have paid. I am sorry to hear that the letter contains Correll's name.
