House of Representatives U. S.,

Washington, D. C., May 15th, 1890.

Dear Mrs Fowgee

Was just commencing to write in ans<sup>r</sup> to yours, when the 2nd came: How easily we are elated or depressed by whims or circumstance, when the heart is impressed, as well as the brain, with the momentous issue at stake. Am glad he is wrapped up in the success of the measure; he can help it, and is helping it, as no other man is or can: Do you know I think he is the greatest Apostle of liberty in America to day! I doubt very much if he knows the great work he is doing: He is leading the leaders, and dont seem to know it. I wonder if his wife is not leading him without either being conscious of it. I hope "Pactolus Prime" will help to bring fortune to both of you, as it will blessing to millions. I know you will care for him: Yours truly
Harrison Kelly
