Dear Mrs Tenney

Yours of yesterday, containing "Bystanders Grotto, of 10" is before me. Have just read with great pleasure and instruction. The judge should <sup>be</sup> and no doubt is thankful for his enemies. How could we get along without them? The Constitution did not intend to do the judge a favor by this review, yet it is the <sup>effect</sup> advertisement I have seen.

"What fools are mortals be," accept my thanks for your thoughtful kindness. You are sustaining one as well as the judge. By some of us you enclose, I suspect you are full of mischief, and are probably putting up a job to tease the judge. All right, I'll help you out, send some more:

Mrs Kelley is an expert in that line too: as well as at Cards. She will be here with me next winter. Enclosed is "Grotto", returned:

Yours with admiration
Harrison Kelley

P.S. who sells Factolus here!
