

Sunday p.m. 1417 N. 16th St
Philadelphia, Pa
May 25th '90

My dear Husband:
I have been to church. the M. E. Church, - on the corner of Broad & Market Sts. - and enjoyed the memorial service very much indeed. - I spoke to Dr. Young, - the pastor. - after the service, told him who I was and how much
I had been entertained.
A. G. A. Post was in attendance the music was very fine and all was patriotic Lodie was going with me, but I had brushed her hair and given it a dose of Dollards, - and it did not get dry. so she covered do it up. so I left her with a volume of the Grand Nineteenth Century, - for entertainment which Mrs O'Brien, who think she is such an intellectual young lady had brought from the Mercantile Library. for her Sunday's reading. -

I send you a little book which may afford you an hour or so amusement - I think the stories are very much more entertaining than those in "The Odd Naps" about which there was so much said. - I made the remark to Lodie just now, and her reply explains it. They are not Monoid! I have enjoyed reading it very much. - through one gets a little tired perhaps of the "fine writing" I like especially "Sim Coyétane" - and "The Hall of Tiger-Skins."

7. p.m.

I got sleepy and laid down on the bed and was only roused by the supper-bell, and have now just come up. We have wounded which you have done all day. It has not rained here. but it has looked like it all day and the sun has not once made its appearance Some one of the Ladies said to-day that it had rained for seven consecutive Sundays. I know it has ever since I have been here.

I have felt very depressed and had a bad day for several days and had a terrible night last night
- the first one I have not slept delightfully since I came. I hope you are feeling better. Lodie sends her love and a kiss.
