One gets more out of this Magazine for the money than from any other published in the country. It is a magazine that no thinking person can afford to do without, and presents the subjects to which the newspapers give scant attention. It is edited from conviction.—Boston Herald.

I cannot think of a more useful periodical in the country, and certainly there is none more able and brilliant.—HENRY W. BLAIR, U. S. Senate.

The craft you have launched is wisely modeled, staunchly built, ably officered, and headed toward the right port. Bon voyage.—PRES. W. F. WARREN, D. D., LL. D., Boston University.

Liberal without laxity, catholic yet conservative, radical and revolutionary, yet free from fanaticism and vagaries. . . . The most vigorous and vivacious journal of the time.—REV. ARTHUR T. PIERSON, D. D., Editor Missionary Review.

Its speciality is the specialties. The ability of the editorship will insure its continued success.—Boston Daily Advertiser.

I read OUR DAY regularly, and regard it as one of the most useful of the American magazines. It represents as no other Review does the serious side of American life.—W. T. STEAD, Pall Mall Gazette, (London.)

Judge Tange, Mayville, N. Y., Dear Sir
In Vital Points of Expert Opinion, Our Day quotes a most suggestive passage from your recent articles. I venture to send you a copy of the number, as it contains also some remarks with which I hope

You will sympathize on Race Riots in the South.

My chief purpose in this note is to ask whether you would take into consideration a proposition to allow Our Day to publish your name as that of one of its Associate Editors. You would need to write only two or three articles a year, but might supply us with strategic matters often. We will call you department Politics, or Labour Reform, or any
