Dear Madam:

Your favor of the 16th inst. at hand, and your remarks noted with care. We desire to say, however, that it is our purpose and intention to settle each and every claim to the satisfaction of our patrons. As before stated, we feel that we were not at fault in sending the tins when the accommodation package was left to be sent with other goods, and, to verify our statement, we enclose copies of express receipts, showing the 2 were shipped together; but, as there would always be a doubt in your mind as to the accuracy of our records, we will assume the loss, and enclose you the 90cts. for the expressage.
