Rochester, N.Y. 8/11 1890

Dear Judge, Emma's letter came yesterday and I copied the "form" before I left but had not time to mail it. Enclosed you will find it.
Am on my way to Northern N.Y. for my vacation. It looks as though I had kept at work through the supreme hotness & have gone off just as the back bone of Caloric was broken.
We have had the infernal heat on record, on off the record, but this morning one wants an overcoat.
I shall go to Watertown today and there decide just what to do.
The gentleman who has gone to camp with me the past two years is sick or has been & I don't know whether he has got in shape to undertake it again. You see it is not every one that a man wants to go with into the woods. You may like a man well enough but you go off into "nature's" solitude with him & have no other companionship for a week or two, you may get awfully tired of him and he of you. If a man has some mean little selfishness, it is sure to show itself on such occasions though he may keep it in his pocket at home.

Mr. Fisher has been sick but is back at his desk.

I think Bessie will visit you soon. - From the accounts in "Forest & Stream" the fishing has been good at your place.

Love to all

J. R. W.
