Dear Madam:

The first four installments of "A Son of Old Harry" have come to hand. We shall await with interest the coming of the residue of the story.

The "head-piece" executed by Miss Tourgée is also at hand. We like it. According to the price we pay for such artistic work it would be worth fifteen dollars to us. If that price is agreeable to Miss Tourgée, please let us know, and we will send her a check for the amount.

Very truly yours,

Robert Bonner's Son.

Mrs. A. W. Tourgée.
