Dear Sir

Your favor of the 19th inst. was duly received. I cannot thoroughly understand what you mean by your objection to my article, as much as a conversation with him about Metallie's business would be a doubtless advantage.

One objection touching submitted to business men's ears for their inspiration. brought out the following objections. viz.

Rather heavy! too much weight. not expedient directly; it injures the muscles of the horse; not handsome enough; should be covered with leather and care.

The point made and objection is well taken; the weight can be reduced and so can the point and appearance be corrected. The

I am about to produce the weight by further experiment, and will, as well, looking about for a looking to look well and to prevent rust.

I will not say more, for the present, than to thank you.
