Dear Sir

A friend has written me suggesting that I start a nickel subscription for the purpose of raising a fund to build a monument to your memory after your death. The money to be placed in some reliable bank, and the interest therefrom ~~to~~ (while you live,) be given you to use in what ever way you choose. Before starting any such move I thought it best to consult you, as I presumed that it would be better to know your desires before making the move.

Respectfully yours
