Commercial Alliance Life Insurance Company

June 22d, 1892.

A. W. Tourgee, Esq.,

Mayville, N. Y.

Dear Sir:--

In reply to your favor of 21st inst., I would state that when we first returned to you the check which you forwarded to this Company in payment of premium due April 1st, 1892, on policies issued on your life, we notified our Medical Examiner at Mayville, Dr. Chase, to call upon you and make a re-examination. We supposed that he had called upon you in accordance with our instructions and that you had declined to be re-examined, as on May 24th when you again forwarded your check you say "Upon consideration I enclose the check sent you, which you will accept or not, as you please, after this explanation." The check was again returned to you, and your favor of the 21st inst. is the first we have received in reference to this matter.

I would again state that if re-examination, when made, is satisfactory to this Company your policy will be reinstated upon the payment of the premiums that have fallen due.

It was a mistake on our part in sending you the notice of premium due June 1st, and you will note by the terms of the notice sent you that it was only sent you upon the understanding that there had not been any default in the payment of premiums.

Very truly yours,

Chas. W. Ziegler
Actuary.
