

E. C. BABB, President.
 A. G. WILCOX, Secretary.
 J. J. ANKENY, Treasurer.
 J. C. HAYNES, Attorney.

240 HENNEPIN AVENUE.

Minneapolis, Minn. July 16, 1892.

My dear Judge,

The girl arrived today, 10 pounds, no cords,
 Mother doing very well, & Mother & Jean especially delighted.

How would Hartwell do as manager of the Colonization Association. He has a keen business instinct, is an organizer, has ~~business~~ utine ability, & the German pronunciation his German has not been very broad,
 & he might not have the grasp necessary
 but there is a suggestion worth consideration.
 Our point as to plan is to organize when you can avoid being taxed on notes received for sale of land and also on stock,
 This can be done I think, but just how, I cannot say without further investigation.

Sincerely yours,

H. H. Kelley

To Judge W. W. Lougheed,
 Mayfield N. Y.