San Francisco Dec. 27.

Dear Judge Tourgée

I have just received from my father a large collection of autographs for a Christmas present. They are written to him on his works, and many of them are very rare. I am collecting more, and I write to ask you if you will kindly write me as a letter a few lines describing your study of Spanish in Libby Prison, which I remember you described to us, when at the farm. I would also be much obliged if you will give me a couple of signatures on the cards enclosed.

Yours Respectively
Paul Bancroft.
