31st University Convocation of the State of New York

TO BE HELD IN THE

Senate Chamber, Albany, N. Y. July 5-7, 1893

To the officers of professional schools

By request Friday morning of Convocation is given almost wholly to the interests of professional schools as connected with other institutions. We are anxious to have a large attendance from the professional faculties and to have a thorough discussion of terms of admission, desirability of special academic preparatory courses and any other questions on which comparison of views may lead to improvement. The plan of Convocation is not to prepare elaborate papers, but to have the best men representing the various interests come together for conference.

Will you kindly notify me by early mail what other subjects connected with professional schools you would like to have discussed and on what you yourself or any other representative of your school will speak? We wish the names of those who are to be present and take part in the discussion, with the topic each will treat. Regret is often expressed that we have not had the professional schools more largely represented in Convocation. New York is justly proud of its leadership in these schools and you are earnestly invited to make a special effort this year to be with us.
